

Official Statement about Dr. Samuel Koranteng-Pipim's Materials

Secrets Unsealed greatly laments Dr. Pipim's moral fall and we are praying that the Lord will restore to him "the joy of God's salvation" as it was so eloquently expressed by King David after his moral fall. In no way do we condone or approve of Dr. Pipim's sinful behavior.

Some have wondered why Secrets Unsealed continues to carry some materials that were written by Dr. Pipim. The answer is that some of the materials we carry such as Prove all Things, Here We Stand and Must we be Silent are actually symposiums that contain materials that were written by several different authors. We feel that these books contain valuable material. We do not feel that the other authors should be penalized because of Dr. Pipim's wrong moral choices.

The materials that we carry were written by Dr. Pipim before he had his moral fall and we are convinced that these materials contain valuable research that is helpful in dealing with certain issues that the church is presently facing. We do not condone Dr. Pipim's behavior but we feel that what he wrote before his moral fall should not be judged on the basis of his present behavior but rather on its own merits.

King David wrote many of his Psalms before he had his moral fall with Bathsheba and yet we do not take those Psalms off the shelf because of his moral fall.
